INTERNATIONAL COMMODITY PRICE DEVELOPMENTS

International prices of platinum, nickel, copper, and Brent crude oil retreated in February 2020. Gold prices, however, firmed during the same month.

Precious Metals

The average monthly price of gold recorded a 2.3% increase, from US$1,561.77 per ounce in January 2020 to US$1,597.96 per ounce<sup>1</sup> in February 2020. This was on the back of an increase in the appeal of the yellow metal as a safe-haven asset, amid concerns about global economic growth prospects.

Platinum prices recorded a month-on-month decline, from US$989.77 per ounce in January 2020 to US$ 962.00 per ounce, during the month under review. This was partly on account of lower demand from major automobile manufacturers such as South Korea's Hyundai. The suspension of production due to coronavirus concerns induced disruptions in global supply chains. In addition, physical demand for platinum eased in China and India, the world's top consumers of jewelry. Prices were also weighed down by lower output from South Africa, the world's top platinum producer, on account worries about power availability and possible industrial actions in mines.

Base metals

During the month under analysis, average prices of copper and nickel registered declines, on the back of lower output and the decline in global demand.

Nickel prices were weighed down by reduced output from smelters, amid slackening demand from automobile companies. The increase in global stockpiles also contributed to lower prices. Consequently, monthly average prices of nickel declined from US$13,519 per tonne in January 2020 to US$12,737.10 per tonne in February 2020.

Likewise, monthly average prices of copper fell from US$6,027.65 per tonne to US$5,687.46 per tonne, during the month under review.

Brent Crude Oil

Monthly average prices of Brent crude oil fell by 12.9%, from US$63.77 per barrel<sup>2</sup> in the previous month to US$55.56 per barrel in February 2020. The decline was partly attributable to a slump in demand in China, the world's top oil importer. In addition, growing fears about the coronavirus having a more significant impact outside of China, particularly in South Korea, Japan, Italy, and Iran also exerted additional downward pressure on demand.

MERCHANDISE TRADE DEVELOPMENTS

Total Merchandise trade<sup>3</sup> for February 2020 increased by 5.0% to US$ 820.0 million, from US$781.4 million recorded in January 2020. This followed a 18.7% increase in imports, which more than offset the 8.3% decline in exports, during the month under review

Merchandise Exports

Merchandise exports registered a month-on-month decline of 8.3%, from US$ 397.7 million in January 2020 to US$364.7 million in February 2020. The decline was due to reduced performance of mineral exports, mainly, gold; nickel ores; and ferro-chromium concentrates.

Gold exports fell by 45.8% to US$56.4 million in February 2020, from US$104.1 million realised in January 2020. Similarly, export revenue from nickel ore and concentrates decreased by 32.6% to US$31.3 million in February 2020.

Source: ZIMSTAT, 2020

On the up-side, the country recorded positive export performance from nickel mattes and flue-cure tobacco, with monthly gains of 71.7% and 41.6%, respectively. The two commodities accounted for 52.1% of the total value of exports in February 2020. While export performance in February 2020 was not materially different from the comparable period last year, going forward, downside risks are expected to emanate from increased volatility caused by the coronavirus pandemic.

Merchandise Imports

Merchandise imports increased to US$455.33 million in February 2020, from US$383.6 million recorded in January 2020. The surge in imports was mainly attributed to the 147% increase in maize imports, which rose from US$23.6 million in January 2020 to US$58.6 million in the month under analysis. Maize imports were necessitated by the poor harvest, following the drought experienced by the country in the 2019/2020 agriculture season. Figure 6 shows developments in the country's merchandise imports for 2019 and 2020.

Source: ZIMSTAT & RBZ Computations, 2020

The growth in imports was also a result of increased imports of energy<sup>4</sup> and crude soya bean oil. Energy imports accounted for 23% of the value of total imports, during the month under analysis. Imports of diesel stood at US$60 million; unleaded petrol, US$29.2 million; electricity, US$17.0 million, accounting for 13.2%, 6.4% and 3.7% of total imports, respectively. Crude soya bean oil imports, increased by 17.0%, and accounted for 1.3% of total imports, during the month under review.

Table 2 shows imports by commodity for the months of January and February 2020.

Merchandise Trade Balance

The country's trade balance reverted to negative territory in February 2020, after four consecutive months in surplus, from October 2019 to January 2020. The net external trade position was a deficit of -US$90.6 million, down from a surplus of US$14.1 recorded in January 2020. Compared to the same period in 2019, the country's trade position deteriorated by US$32.0 million. This was mainly attributed to the marked increase in imports of critical commodities, which constituted the bulk of the import basket.

MONETARY DEVELOPMENTS<sup>5</sup>

Broad money consists of two components, namely, domestic and foreign currency accounts (FCA) deposits. Of the total stock of broad money of ZW$38.34 billion as at end-February 2020, FCA deposits totalled an equivalent of ZW$12.48 billion (32.55%) of total, while local currency deposits amounted to ZW$24.91 billion (or 64.98%). Currency in circulation constituted the balance of Z$0.95 billion (2.48%).

Over the year to February 2020, FCA deposits grew by 296.00%, largely reflecting the impact of exchange rate depreciation, from ZW$2.5/US$ in February 2019 to ZW$17.96/US$ in February 2020. As a result, about 40% of the annual growth in broad money in February 2020 emanated from the valuation adjustments due to exchange rate movements and does not constitute new money creation. The ZW$ denominated component of money supply rose from ZW$8.7 billion in February 2019 to ZW$24.9 billion in February 2020, partly reflecting the multiplier effects of deposit creation in the economy and inflation.

Notes and coin in circulation rose by ZW$550.5 million, from ZW$473.8 million in February 2019 to ZW$1.04 billion in February 2020, in line with the Bank's drip-feed policy on the release of new currency. The rise in notes and coin in circulation is also in response to the demand for money in the economy, for transactions purposes. The figure below shows the components of money supply in the economy.

Source: Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe, 2019

On an annual basis, broad money was largely driven by increase in credit to the private sector, which grew by 261.15%, coupled with increase in credit to Government of 29.37%. Month-on-month, credit to the private sector rose by 12.36%, from ZW$13.05 billion in January 2020 to ZW$14.66 billion in February 2020, while net credit to Government declined from ZW$12.72 billion in January to ZW$12.70 billion in February 2020. Government deposits in the banking system rose 4.78%, from ZW$3.95 billion in January 2020 to ZW$4.14 billion in February.

Credit to the private sector was extended largely to agriculture, households, financial organisations, manufacturing, and distribution, as shown in Figure 10.

<sup>5</sup>All monetary numbers valued in Zimbabwe dollars ($) since the adoption of an interbank market determined exchange rate in February 2019.

Credit to the private sector was utilised as follows: inventory build-up, 35.08%; other recurrent expenditures, 32.25%; fixed capital investment, 18.67%; consumer durables, 11.84%; and pre and post shipment financing, 2.16%.

STOCK MARKET DEVELOPMENTS

During the month of February 2020, The Zimbabwe Stock Exchange (ZSE) was characterized by bullish sentiments as investors flocked to the bourse, on the back of limited investment options and high inflation.

The All Share and Top 10 indices increased by 42.12% and 27.57%, to close at 473.13 points and 399.69 points, respectively.

On a month-on-month basis, the ZSE Small Cap, Medium Cap and the Top 15 indices registered monthly increases of 662.20 points; 282.35 points; and 101.32 points, to close at 1493.28 points; 638.23 points; and 409.42 points, respectively.

Mining and industrial indices rose by 481.81 points and 452.71 points to close at 826.73 points and 1 564.98 points, respectively, during the month under analysis.

On an annual basis, mining and industrial indices grew by 299.33% and 216.60%, from 207.03 points and 494.31 points registered in February 2019, to close at 1 564.98 points and 826.73 points in February 2020, respectively.

The volume of shares traded during the month under review fell by 24.90% to 172.68 million shares, from 179.56 million shares traded in the previous month. The cumulative value of shares traded, however, increased by 21.73% to close at ZW$360.13 million, during the same month.

The ZSE gained ZW$17.56 billion, or 40.44% of the previous month's value to close at ZW$60.99 billion, during the month under review. On a year-on-year basis, the local bourse capitalization increased by $41.21 billion, from Z$19.77 billion recorded in February 2019.

INFLATION OUTTURN

Annual Inflation

The annual headline inflation stood at 540.2% in February 2020, up from 473.3% recorded in January 2020. This was on account of increases in both food and non-food inflation.

Annual food inflation increased from 685.6% in January 2020 to 710.3% in February 2020. Annual non-food inflation also accelerated from 378.5% in January 2020 to 462.6%, during the period under review.

The price increases were partly attributable to the indexation of prices to alternative market exchange rates for both imported and locally produced goods.

Monthly Inflation

Month-on-month inflation rose to 13.5% in February 2020, from 2.2% in January 2020. This was underpinned by the acceleration in non-food inflation, which rose from 2.1% in January 2020 to 18.4% in February 2020. Monthly food inflation also increased from 2.6% in the previous month to 6.8%, during the month under review.

Figure 14 shows the month-on-month inflation developments, for the period from January 2019 to February 2020.

Zimbabwe Electronic Transfer Settlement System (ZETSS)

The total value of Real Time Gross Settlement (RTGS) transactions registered a 13.0% decline, to close the month under analysis at ZW$41.64 billion. Similarly, the volume of transactions processed through the RTGS system declined to 916,116 in February 2020, from 943,296 transactions in January 2020.

Mobile and Internet Based Transactions

The value of Mobile and Internet based transactions increased by 4.06% to ZW$32.23 billion in February 2020, from ZW$30.97 billion in January 2020.

Card Based Transactions

Card based transactions closed the month under review at ZW$5.57 million, up from ZW$5.25 million in the preceding month.
