INTERNATIONAL COMMODITY PRICE DEVELOPMENTS

The international prices of precious metals, base metals and crude oil registered monthly gains in July 2020. This followed the opening up of most economies from coronavirus-induced lockdowns, which boosted expectations of the recovery of the global economy.

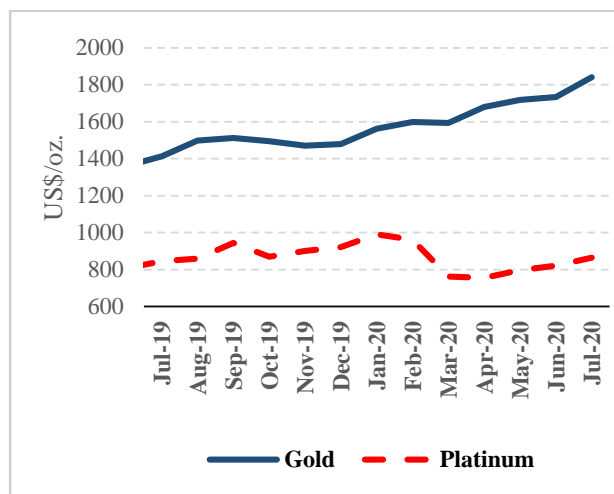

Precious Metals

Gold prices continued to rally during the month under review, gaining 6.2% month-on-month, underpinned by robust safe-haven demand. The price of the yellow metal increased from US$1,733.14 per ounce in June 2020 to US$1,841.08 per ounce in July 2020.

Platinum prices also registered monthly gains, on the back of strengthening demand, as automobile manufacturing staged a recovery. On the supply-side, coronavirus containment measures in South Africa, the world's top producer, lent support to prices, owing to limited production capacity. Against this backdrop, the price of platinum increased by 5.2%, from US$821.16 per ounce in June 2020, to a monthly average of US$863.52 per ounce July 2020.

Base Metals

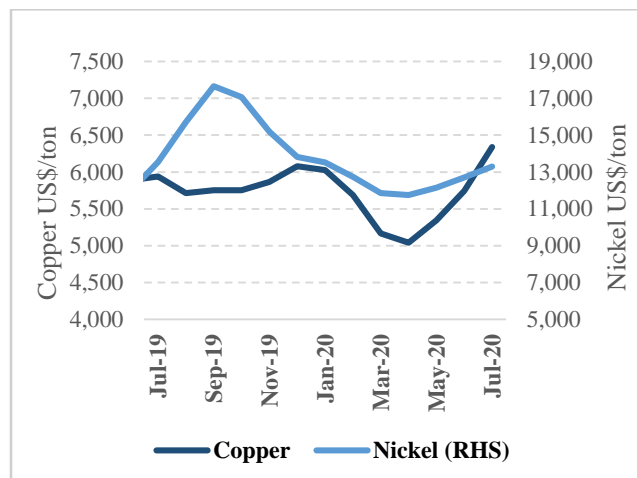

Base metal prices increased owing to strong demand from China, as industrial activity reached pre-pandemic levels. In addition, supply conditions in source markets tightened on the back of coronavirus lockdowns, particularly in Chile and Peru, the world's top producers of copper.

The demand for copper was supported by a stimulus package put in place by the Chinese government, targeting infrastructure spending, for which copper is a key component. Resultantly, copper prices rose by 10.4%, from a monthly average of US$5,742.39 per tonne in June 2020 to US$6,340.72 per tonne July 2020.

Likewise, nickel prices were supported by strong demand from China, as infrastructure spending signalled a recovery, with a positive impact on investor sentiment. As a result, the price of nickel gained by 4.7%, from US$12,702.05 per tonne recorded in the previous month to US$13,279.87 per tonne during the month under review.

Brent Crude Oil

Brent crude oil price were buoyed by signs of economic recovery in China as factory activity expanded, supporting prices from the demand-side. However, a resurgence of coronavirus cases in the US, coupled with signs of easing of supply cuts from oil producing nations and rising geo-political tensions capped the gains for Brent crude oil in July 2020. The monthly average price of crude oil gained by 5.9%, from US$40.70 per barrel in June 2020, to US$43.10 per barrel in July 2020.

MERCHANDISE TRADE DEVELOPMENTS

Total merchandise trade¹ stood at US$737.3 million in June 2020, reflecting an increase of 11.7% from US$659.9 million recorded in May 2020. This followed increases in both merchandise exports and imports. The sustained improvement in merchandise trade was underpinned by the easing of trade restrictive lockdowns, particularly in South Africa, the country's biggest trading partner.

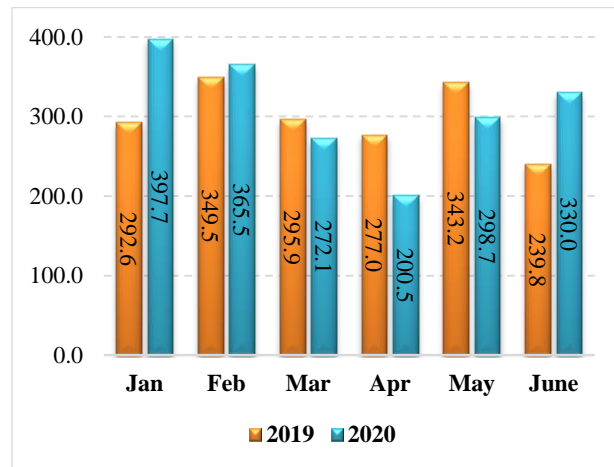

Merchandise Exports

Merchandise exports increased by 10.5%, from US$298.7 million in May 2020 to US$330.0 million in June 2020. The easing of lockdown measures by the country's major trading partners such as South Africa and China bolstered the country's exports during the month under review. Zimbabwe exports most of its minerals and tobacco to South Africa and China, respectively.

The country's merchandise exports for the month of June 2020 were mainly composed of nickel, gold, diamonds and tobacco which collectively constituted about 80.5% of total exports, as shown in Table 1.

Merchandise Imports

Total merchandise imports for the month of June 2020 amounted to US$407.3 million, a 12.8% increase from US$361.1 million recorded in the previous month. The general rebound in imports continued to be attributed to the relaxation of lockdowns by most economies, a development that improved regional and global supply chains. Figure 6 shows monthly merchandise imports for 2019 and 2020.

The increase in the country's imports during the month of June 2020 was underpinned by increases in imports of medicines (315.9%); unleaded petrol (42.3%); and diesel, (10.9%). Table 3 shows imports of major commodities for the months of May and June 2020.

Merchandise Trade Balance

The above mentioned trade developments culminated in the widening of the country's trade deficit, from US$62.4 million in May 2020 to US$77.3 million during the month under review. The worsening of the balance of trade was mainly on account of a surge in imports, during the month under analysis. Figure 8 shows the country's trade balance for the period from June 2019 to June 2020.

MONETARY DEVELOPMENTS³

Broad money stood at ZW$132.26 billion as at end July 2020, up from ZW$99.82 billion recorded in June 2020. The narrow money stock (M1) largely consisted of foreign currency account (FCA) deposits, equivalent to ZW$79.08 billion (59.79%), while local currency transferrable deposits amounted to ZW$44.90 billion (33.95%) and currency in circulation, ZW$1.21 billion (0.91%).

Over the year to July 2020, the foreign currency component of total deposits increased significantly, mainly on account revaluation adjustments due to exchange rate movements, from ZW$9.19/US$ in July 2019 to ZW$76.76/US$ in July 2020. In addition, the growth in FCA deposits also reflected inflows from the tobacco-selling season, as well as the policy change that allowed usage of free funds for domestic transactions.

Local currency deposits registered a year-on-year growth of 317.60%, while currency in circulation also increased by 159.61% on an annual basis, reflecting demand for cash for transactions purposes, against the high inflation environment.

Source: Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe, 2020

Annual growth in broad money was largely driven by increases in credit to the private sector, 607.38%; credit to other financial corporations, 477.51%; and credit to public non-financial corporations, 438.47%. Net credit to Government recorded a year-on-year increase of 27.56% as at end July 2020, reflecting reduced recourse to banking system finance by Government.

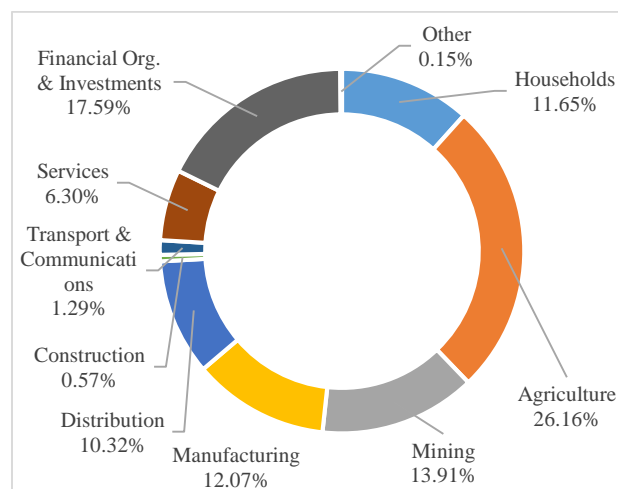

On a month-on-month basis, credit to the private sector increased by 21.88% to ZW$39.23 billion; while net credit to Government also grew by 28.25% to ZW$14.48 billion, during the month under review. Credit to Government was largely in the form of Treasury bill holdings by banks.

Credit to the private sector was mainly extended towards agriculture, 26.16%; financial organisations, 17.59%; mining, 13.91%; manufacturing, 12.07%; households, 11.65%; and distribution, 10.32%, as shown in figure 10.

Credit to the private sector was channelled towards inventory build-up, 37.28%; other recurrent expenditures, 32.86%; and fixed capital investment, 17.98%, among other purposes.

INFLATION OUTTURN

Annual Inflation

Annual headline inflation accelerated to 837.53% in July 2020, from 737.26%, recorded in June 2020. This was driven by both food and non-food inflation.

Annual food inflation, which had decelerated in May and June 2020, rose to 976.73% in July 2020.

Bread and cereals; vegetables; and meat, were major drivers of annual food inflation in July 2020. Major increases in food prices were recorded for ginger, garlic, mealie meal, bread, and chicken, among others. Other items that registered significant price increases over the year were processed meat, flour, fish and spaghetti.

Similarly, annual non-food inflation accelerated to 755.27% in July 2020, from 678.3% in the previous month. This was driven by housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuels; miscellaneous goods and services; and transport and communication categories.

The increase in housing and energy prices was underpinned by the rise in the cost of maintenance of dwellings, upward review of municipality charges and actual rentals for housing.

The upward adjustment of fuel prices, in line with official exchange rate developments, contributed to the rise in transport inflation in July 2020.

The rise in communication inflation was attributable to an increase in charges for voice and data traffic by all providers. The demand for telecommunications for business also increased during the lockdown period, pushing prices up.

The annual Blended Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation⁴ rose to 485.27% in July 2020, from 457.19% in June 2020.

Monthly Inflation

Monthly inflation accelerated to 35.53% in July 2020, from 31.7% in the previous month, largely driven by an increase in non-food inflation.

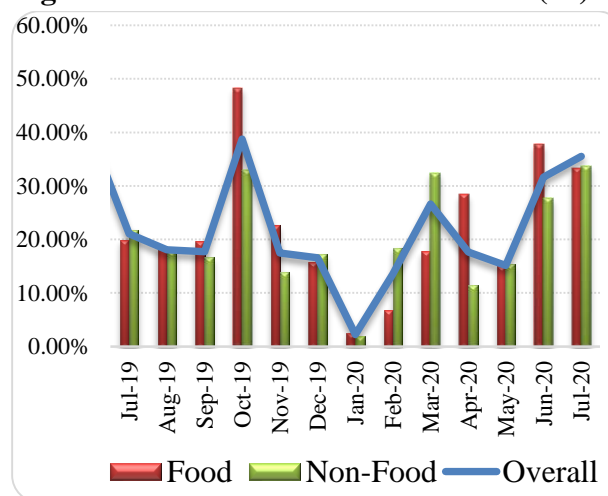

Non-food inflation rose from 27.6% in June to 33.76% in July 2020. Transport; housing, water electricity gas and other fuels; and communication were the largest contributors to month-on-month inflation in July 2020.

Food inflation also rose from 37.7% in June to 38.0% in July 2020. Bread and cereals, vegetables and meat continued to have the largest impact on monthly inflation.

The monthly blended inflation declined by 12.75 percentage points to 16.65% in July 2020, from 29.4% in June 2020.

Figure 9 shows month-on-month inflation developments, for the period from July 2019 to July 2020.

⁴The Zimbabwe National Statistical Agency (ZIMSTAT) commenced publication of the blended CPI inflation in June 2020. The blended CPI inflation combines the average changes in price of goods and services sold in the two main currencies in circulation, namely the ZW$ and the USD
